

EconWorld2024@Madrid

The Sixteenth International Conference on Economics

February 1-3, 2024

Madrid, Spain

madrid2024.econworld.org

conference@weri.eu

Call for Papers

World Economic Research Institute (WERI) together with Sevilla University and Grigol Robakidze University are organizing the XVI. International Conference on Economics (EconWorld2024@Madrid) to be held both in-person and online in Madrid, Spain on February 1-3, 2024. The Conference program includes plenary sessions, panels, and presentations of contributed papers. The conference is open to all line of theoretical and empirical research in economics, finance, labour, and entrepreneurship. The conference aims at bringing together scholars from all over the World for exchange of ideas, discussion of recent results within theoretical and applied research, and creating a research network for future joint collaborations. More information on the conference may be find on conference web site: madrid2024.econworld.org

Abstract Submission

An abstract of not less/more than 150/200 words in English or Turkish should be submitted online through the website. Abstracts should include 2-3 JEL codes and keywords of the research. Papers in the fields of economics, finance, entrepreneurship, and labor will be considered. Papers submitted to EconWorld2024@Madrid Conference will be evaluated at least two blind referees. Authors will receive a notification by e-mail about acceptance/rejection of their research within 2 weeks after their submission. Authors can not submit more than 2 papers. No poster presentation is allowed at this conference. Please submit your abstract online at: madrid2024.econworld.org

Important Dates

- Deadline for early abstract submission: December 1, 2023
- Deadline for early registration: December 15, 2023
- Deadline for late abstract submission: January 5, 2024
- Deadline for late registration: January 15, 2024
- Announcement of programme: January 25, 2024
- Deadline for submission of full paper: January 25, 2024

Registration

Early registration fee is €200/€100 for in-person/online participation. Early registration fee for graduate students is €150/€75 for in-person/online participation. Late registration fee is €300/€150 for in-person/online participation. Late registration fee for graduate students is €225/€125 for in-person/online participation. Registration fee includes admission to sessions, all conference materials, and coffee breaks. Registration at the conference registration desk is two folds of the original fee.

Financial Support

EconWorld will provide financial support to 10 participants at EconWorld2024 Conference. The type of support will be as follows:

- Registration fee waiver (to be given to 5 participants, submission of full paper is required.)
- 50% discount on early registration fee (to be given 5 participants, only low and lower-middle income country researchers are eligible, submission of abstract is required.)

To apply for financial support, please submit your full paper by December 1, 2023.

Publication Opportunities

Paper presenting authors at the EconWorld2024@Madrid Conference have the opportunity to publish their papers in the following journals:

- Economics Literature \(eLit\)
- World Journal of Applied Economics \(EconWorld Journal\)

Authors must submit revised version of their papers after the EconWorld2024@Madrid conference. The deadline to submit your manuscript is February 15, 2024. The authors should follow regular submission rules of the journal that can be found on the Journals' web pages.

